On February 22, 2025, Florida International University (FIU) will host Teaching of Portuguese K-16: Approaches and Methodologies for the 21st Century. This event will explore innovative strategies for teaching Portuguese, emphasizing translation and interpretation for professional mobility, cultural storytelling, and the integration of language education with career pathways. With engaging talks and hands-on workshops, participants will gain tools to strengthen Portuguese programs and inspire students to connect language learning with global opportunities.
